CS I c Weekly Plan (from RC I-3)

Directions: Reflect on the weekly plan you included in your Resource Collection I-3.

How does this plan reflect your philosophy of what young children need on a weekly basis? If the plan was not designed by you, what do you see as its strengths and/or what would you change?

I have included activities that the children are interested in currently. We read a story about fairy tales which sparked a bunch of conversation about the different types. This is what gave me the idea to create a theme around it. I wanted to make sure that it was a topic they were going to find fun as well as learn from it. I tried to include various areas that they could be challenged, if needed. We've been having difficulties around math and measuring lately so I wanted to make it a fun activity for them to play around with while still using those skills that I know they have. They really like to decorate too so I was hoping that I could get them to help me decorate some of the different areas as well.
