

Tab D - CS II d Communication and Language Development

Directions: Describe ways to promote the communication and language development among all children including dual language learners.

Promoting communication in the classroom is something that I try to actively focus on because I know that this can benefit many other areas of development too. It also helps children to be able to communicate their needs to others which means we are building trust between us teachers and our children.

Communication and language development can be practiced through social activities at circle time, taking turns, working on a project or science experiment together, practicing active listening skills, and engaging children in learning another language.
